

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 5, 1907.

CONGRESSMAN BURLISON, of Texas, has no doubt that the President intends to be the candidate next year, for it is his intimates and men who are frequently at the White House who are constantly saying that the country demands him and he will have to yield in spite of his assurance three years ago, several times repeated, that he would not be a candidate. "As I see the matter," says Mr. Burlison, "he is bending all his energies and exhausting all the resources of a political cunning without parallel in my experience to compel the republicans to nominate him by acclamation." Concerning Mr. Roosevelt's position the Philadelphia Record says: "Federal officeholders insisted in 1892 that the country was crying for four years more of Benjamin Harrison, but it wasn't."

NATURE-TAKERS are now making every sort of prediction for the character of the coming winter. A little while ago they announced that birds were going South in unusual numbers and uncommonly early. Of course, this betokened an early and very hard winter. But a man with a well-established reputation as a weather prophet in Pennsylvania, says the horns are building their nests high in the air, which promises a mild winter, for when the weather is to be severe they build on the ground to get the protection of snow. The goosebore prophet has passed away, but just the same sort of winter prognostications are made, all the same.

"BIG BILL" LONG, a woodman of Patten, Me., who serves as guide to those who hunt in that region, owes his life to the quick wit of Miss Martha George, a young woman of Roxbury, Mass., who accidentally shot him and then used her garter for a tourniquet, preventing him from bleeding to death. While gunning with Long as her guide, Miss George accidentally pulled the second trigger of an automatic gun, the lead tearing through an artery in the guide's leg. Instead of fainting, she bled Long's leg and, telling the guide to "look the other way," removed her garter and stanching the flow of blood. Footed and quit my penance.

The election being held in thirteen States today may develop some indication of possible tendencies in the national campaign of next year. The fact that contests affecting the national congress are promised in but a few instances has a somewhat deterring influence, but the more astute of the political forecasters expect to find some signs which will be significant if not determinative. Straws show the way the wind blows and the results in the thirteen States today may shed some light on next year's election on the theory that coming events cast their shadows before.

IN AN interview in Kansas City last night U. S. Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, said:

"The effort to call an extraordinary session of Congress for currency reform is being made to give the country a currency reform such as the banking industry wishes. What we need is not currency reform as the banks want it but enforcement of the laws we now have against wild-cat banking and the punishment of those who have broken them."

Senator Tillman seems to have "sized up" the situation quite concisely.

A DISPATCH from Tokyo says Count Okuma, leader of the Japanese progressive party, has modified his attitude toward the Japanese-American immigration question, and it is reported that immigration will not be made an issue at the coming session of the Diet. This another war cloud, raised by the jingoes, fades away, but they are a resourceful set and will present a new scare the very first opportunity that presents itself.

GIBBONS FINCHOT, Government forester, declares the timber supply of the country will be exhausted in 20 years, if the cutting continues at the present rate. In sounding his warning, Mr. Finchot urged that the danger of the situation should not be underestimated, since it affects every man, woman and child in the United States.

From Washington.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Senator Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, at one time chairman of the republican national committee, and now one of the republican "whips" in the United States senate, is not hopeful of success in the coming election. He looks for an early adjournment. "It is doubtful," said he, "if the financial solons of the country can agree on any form of legislation. Every lawyer has his own theory. Scarcely any two can be brought to agree on what should be done. Under these circumstances it is difficult to predict legislation."

The Weather Bureau makes the following special election day announcement: Fair weather prevails in all sections of the country today, except in parts of the lake region, New York and New England, where there are areas of cloud and local rains. Temperature is everywhere moderate."

The American Pickle Manufacturers' Association, representing sixty preserving concerns of the United States, applied to the Secretary of Agriculture today for an extension of time during which they may use benzoate of soda. They allege they have expended $100,000 to discover a method of preserving in which this chemical is not necessary, but without success. Two of the largest preserving concerns in the United States object to an extension of time, on the ground that they have not found that chemical, or any other, necessary in manufacturing their products.

Commissioner Sargent, of the Bureau of Immigration, received a report from Canada today stating that 782 Chinese had been admitted in the first nine months of this year, compared with 26 for last year. Each of these paid a tax of $500, or $361,000 in all.

Many of the pressmen employed on the Washington newspapers went out on a strike today and others will follow tonight.

The Postoffice Department issued a fraud order today against the Hamburg City Lottery of Germany, and M. E. Stern, its agent in Bremen.

The first submarine torpedo boat built in the United States is to be put in commission at Newport.

The Vesuvius, the torpedo experimental ship of the navy, has been ordered to be placed out of commission at the Boston navy yard for general overhauling.

The President reached Oyster Bay at 9:50 a. m.; voted at 9:55, left at 10:30; got to Jersey City at noon and left at 1:14 p. m. for Washington.

Commissioner Capers, who has taken charge of the district office at Baltimore, says that the work will be finished within 60 days. "I have increased the force of revenue agents in Virginia," he explained, "and have sent to the field a number of the best and ablest men in the service. When we are through there will be very few of the guilty not apprehended." Many gamblers and storekeepers are involved in the case. One method of distilling men took to evade the law and get the work of the district was through a wholesale house which they owned but which was operated under another name.

Four more Army officers have been ordered before a retiring board because of their inability to comply with the horseman's test prescribed by the President—Col. Henry M. Adams, Lt. Col. Oranoid M. Lissak, Maj. Henry M. Benham, and Maj. Chas. C. Pierce.

A dispatch from Asheville, N. C., says that engineers and conductors of the Southern Railway are threatening a strike if they are not granted an increase in wages. A similar demand was made a year ago, which the Southern granted, increasing their annual pay roll several hundred thousand dollars. Some of the more conservative employers are using their influence against a strike, especially at this time.

A dispatch from Spencer, N. C., says that pursuant to an order from the Washington office of the Southern Railway Company, applicable over the entire system, the employees of the company at Spencer, Knoxville and other places were yesterday placed under a nine-hour day schedule. The cut amounts to 10 per cent, and was made by the company rather than reduce the force. It is not known how long the schedule will remain in effect.

SHOOTING EXPLAINED.

The shooting of Dr. H. McF. Allen, a prominent physician of East Nashville, Tenn., on Sunday, by Thomas S. Bush, has been explained. It is certain the "unwritten law" will be invoked once more. Bush, who is only twenty-one years old, broke his long silence last night. He made a formal statement that his wife, who was Miss B. Anne Lewis Currier, of Nashville, went to Dr. Allen's office for medical treatment on Saturday last. Mrs. Bush, her husband says, told him Sunday morning that Dr. Allen had attacked and overcame her in his office. Bush then determined to kill the doctor. Dr. Allen came from his office and was about to enter his automobile, when Bush walked up to him, and after expressing his regrets, shot and killed him.

Stay of Execution Granted.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Herman Bilke, the Bohemian fortune teller, sentenced to hang Friday, will be granted a stay. His execution has been postponed because of a new mystery in the case. Bilke was convicted of poisoning five members of the family of Martin V. Ziel, a milk dealer. The evidence disclosed that at Bilke and Mrs. Mary Ziel, who poisoned herself because of the exposure, were lovers. The charges of the State was that they conspired to kill the entire family in order to get insurance money, so Bilke and his paramour might elope to Bohemia. Mrs. Emma Bielmeier, a married daughter of the woman, left home and warned her sisters that Bilke was administering arsenic to the family in food. She was the witness upon whose evidence Bilke was condemned. The fortune teller's defense was a counter accusation that Mrs. Bielmeier poisoned the family. Yesterday Mrs. Bielmeier's husband, a farmer, died suddenly. Bilke's attorney directed the attention of Judge Burnes and the State's attorney to the circumstance. The court decided to grant Bilke a bill of exceptions which will procure a supersedeas and stay from the Supreme Court. Analysis of the organs of Bielmeier's body will be made.

The New Cunarder.

London, Nov. 5.—The Cunarder Mauretania, the Lusitania's sister ship, will make her maiden trip to New York early in December. Though the Lusitania's sister, she is not the latter's twin, being 300 tons heavier, a few feet longer and quite a bit faster, as indicated by her recent trial run around Scotland. The Mauretania, on the trial, for a short time, made 27.12 knots.

Rumors have it that the Cunarder Company will bid good-bye to Queens-town with its larger ships, notably the Lusitania, Mauretania and Campania, early next month, the plan being for these vessels to make Holyhead their stopping place instead. If this happens, Queenstown's days as a mail station are practically ended, the White Star Line having also ceased to stop there with homeward mails.

The trouble is a result of the Cork Harbor Board's failure to arrange for removing the Turbot Bank. The board explained that it could not meet the expenses, which would exceed $2,500,000. It asked the Lords of the Admiralty to aid in the undertaking, but the admiralty refused.

The Market.

Georgetown, Nov. 5.—Wheat 73 3/4.

News of the Day.

A time-stained document found in an attic in Ohio is believed to be the will of John Bunyan, author of "Pilgrim's Progress."

The four-masted ship Arthur Sewall, which left Philadelphia in March for Seattle with coal and which was reported lost, was reported off Cape Flattery, Wash., yesterday.

Martin Maloney, the Standard Oil magnate, whose daughter, Helen, eloped recently with Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, has effected a reconciliation with his daughter and is now on his way home with her, Clarkson having returned to London. They may be already in America.

Mrs. Mable Ateran, wife of a Japanese cook in a Cleveland, O., restaurant, is under arrest charged with putting poison in dishes which her husband was preparing for the customers. Mrs. Ateran had quarreled with her husband and sworn out a warrant for his arrest on the charge of beating her.

George J. Gould, who arrived in New York from Europe today said that the currency situation was not right and that President Roosevelt had a great chance to modify it by calling a special session of congress. He also said that J. P. Morgan had shown himself to be a "perfect trump" and that he was the most wonderful financier the world ever produced.

A dispatch from St. John, N. F., says it is feared that many lives were lost in the last heavy gale. Three Newfoundland fishing schooners are missing and four French vessels belonging to the St. Pierre banking fleet have not reported. Wreckage washed ashore on the southern coast indicates that the schooner Orion was lost. She carried a crew of 18 men, all of whom are missing.

It was announced in St. Petersburg yesterday that the tour of inspection just completed by the minister of ways and communications through southern Russia, the Caucasus, Turkistan and central Asia had revealed complete chaos in the railroad system. The statement is made that the railroads are practically in the hands of the revolutionaries, and that plans for armed uprisings are spreading everywhere. The minister himself narrowly escaped having a bomb hurled at him at Ashkabad.

There was a run of striking telegraphers for reinstatement, lasting for several hours, yesterday, at the office of District Superintendent Mulford, of the Western Union Company in New York. Up to noon Superintendent Mulford said 25 had given their names, of whom five were rejected, and more continue to apply. It is learned that some of the returning strikers who applied some days ago for reinstatement with the Western Union Company and were rejected as being undesirable have since been re-employed. Those who were rejected yesterday are charged with being strike leaders.

Marina Carmelia Mongoluzzo, an aged Italian woman, was murdered and robbed of $700, the savings of herself and husband, while she was at work yesterday in a shed in the rear of her home, in southwest Philadelphia. The woman's husband, A. Matteo Mongoluzzo, left her at the washbasin when he went to work yesterday morning, and when he returned home he found her lying in the shed with her throat cut from ear to ear. Six hundred dollars which the couple had saved in the woman's dress, and nearly $100 additional was in her purse. When Mrs. Mongoluzzo's body was found the pocket containing the money had been cut from her dress and the purse was gone.

Councillor James R. Day, of Syracuse University, has become noted for his criticisms of President Roosevelt and his detractors of "Americanism" and his detractors of "Americanism" and his detractors of "Americanism."

One man was killed and another fatally injured in a freight wreck on the New York Central Railroad at Grinnell, near Buffalo N. Y., this morning.

Tom Pele's old house at New Rochelle, N. Y., where he wrote "The Age of Reason," has been sold for $4,500, and will be torn down. It was built in 1720.

America purchased half the gold, about $400,000, in the open market in London. The Bank of England increased its discount rate to 6 per cent.

The Bank of England asked the Bank of France to advance the former $15,000,000. The Bank of France met today and granted the request.

FRAUDS CHARGED.

Some of the most gigantic frauds in the history of the Internal Revenue Service have been unearthed in Virginia, North Carolina and other southern States, and sensational disclosures, involving prominent people and well-known distilleries, are anticipated. The federal authorities engaged in the task of protecting the government's interests estimate the loss in revenue in Virginia alone to be from $750,000 to $1,000,000 a year, and they say the circumvention of the laws has been going on for eighteen months or more. The loss in collections in other States is said to approximate the amount of taxes evaded in the Old Dominion. It is said that Commissioner John G. Capers is personally directing the investigation, and this is borne out by the fact that David A. Gates, chief of the special agents, with headquarters at Washington, has made several visits to Richmond and other places in the State, and is co-operating closely with Revenue Agent Chapman.

QUASHED LEWIS ATTACHMENTS

Judge J. E. Mason, sitting at Fredericksburg, yesterday heard the motion of counsel of A. B. Lewis, of the Lewis and Clark land company, to quash and dismiss the several attachments sworn out in the Circuit Court of Caroline county against Mr. Lewis by Messrs. Boulware & Son, M. S. Chancellor, of that city, and J. S. of Caroline. The evidence went to show that Mr. Lewis's home is in Caroline county, and Judge Mason rendered a decision quashing and dismissing all the attachments at the cost of the plaintiffs. The attachment said of Case vs. Lewis, in which $9,000 is involved, went over and a decision will be rendered later.

A Hard Debt to Pay

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough, which had been the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equalled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Virginia News.

At Richmond yesterday Virginia Polytechnic Institute defeated the Georgetown football team by 20 to 0, in forty-five minutes of play.

George Joy, who was shot in a Norfolk saloon last Thursday by Thomas Hobbs, died yesterday. Hobbs, who is now in jail, shot the other man because he refused to buy him a drink.

The Georgia building at the Jamestown Exposition has been closed and the New Hampshire building with its contents has been sold for $2,000.

The engagement is announced of Miss Emma Seston, formerly of Parcellville, to Dr. Ernest Hazen, of Parcellville, Loudoun county. The wedding will take place this month at the bride's home in Washington.

Mrs. Mattie Britton, died Saturday, in Norfolk, as the result of bullet wounds received at the hands of her son-in-law, John W. Childress, when the latter, in a jealous rage, October 26, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide.

The republicans of Bristol, in mass convention last night, endorsed the candidacy of David F. Bailey to succeed the late Congressman Slemmon from the Ninth district, and expressed themselves as opposed to a formal nomination. Bailey addressed the convention, denouncing the alleged republican combine in the district.

John George, a prominent farmer of Loudoun county, died Sunday at his home near Lovettsville, aged about sixty years. On Wednesday of last week he fell from his riding horse and the shock brought on paralysis, which was the immediate cause of his death. He was a Confederate soldier and a member of the Eighth Virginia regiment.

The marriage of Miss Lucy Chilton Kloman, youngest daughter of Mr. Edward F. Kloman and the late Mrs. Agnes Pickett Kloman, of Warrenton, to Mr. Jesse Andrew Davis took place in Baltimore yesterday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. Lloyd Chamberlain. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William H. Laird, of Warrenton.

With his throat cut and his wrist lacerated, Dr. James D. Talkin, a prominent physician of Baltimore, lies in King's Daughters' Hospital, Portsmouth. He was found yesterday with his wounds, evidently self-inflicted, in his stateroom aboard the Baltimore steamer Alabama, as that vessel reached her dock at Portsmouth. Dr. Talkin is expected to recover.

Mrs. Mary Holland Bull, of Norfolk, has issued cards announcing the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Augusta, to Mr. Fenton Furr Priest, son of the late John H. Priest, of Middleburg, Loudoun county. The wedding will take place at the Second Presbyterian Church, Norfolk, on Thursday evening, November 14. Mr. Priest is well known throughout Loudoun county.

Frank C. Bonner, forty years old, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid at his home in Newport News yesterday morning, after punishing his ten-year-old son because he knocked from his father's hand a tumbler containing poison. Bonner had been on a spree for several days, and was in a shattered physical condition at the time he started to take his life. Bonner was employed at the ship yard as a boiler-maker for a number of years.

At Orleans, a station on the Craig branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Sunday, C. D. Boyle, the railway agent at Orleans, was shot and killed by John McNelis. Boyle was seated in the station when McNelis entered. McNelis was intoxicated, and remarked to Boyle that if he had a pistol and a bottle of whiskey, he would commit suicide. Boyle thought his caller was joking, and handed McNelis a pistol and told him to kill himself. McNelis walked out side the building, and then shot through a window at Boyle, hitting him in the head. Boyle died five hours later. McNelis has been arrested.

Arrival of Gold.

New York, Nov. 5.—Eight millions of the $30,000,000 gold already engaged in Europe by New York banks, arrived on the steamer Kron Prinzessen Cecilie today. In this steamer's wake the Lusitania is bringing $10,000,000 more. The rest of the $30,000,000, is expected within a week. More gold is being engaged constantly and financiers say it is not likely to stop short of $50,000,000. Marked, as it is by a start on the immense inflow of money, financial leaders regard today as the happiest holiday they have known in years. They believe the point has at last been reached where the tide may be sounded on the return and that from now on conditions will improve.

MRS. MARY GREGOVICH.

Of Phillipsburg, Montana. Tell How She Was Cured of Dandruff.

Mrs. Mary Gregovich, Phillipsburg, Montana, under date of Nov. 25, 1906, writes: "I had dandruff for this summer, consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Hair Restorer had just come out in Phillipsburg, and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After four applications my hair stopped falling out, and is coming in again quite thick. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am not quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes 25c and $1.00. E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Special Agents.

To Return Home.

Manila, Nov. 5.—Secretary of War Taft is considering the abandonment of the rest of his world tour and immediately return home. The financial crisis and urgent political demand for his presence at home, are understood to be behind his growing conviction that it will be best for him to give up his original plan for circling the globe.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—"Some color is lent to the report that Secretary Taft contemplates abandoning his European trip, from the fact that President Roosevelt is known to have been in personal cable communication with him several times since the Secretary arrived in the Philippines."

Today's Telegraphic News.

THE ELECTION.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—The vote in Virginia today will not be nearly so large as in years of gubernatorial elections.

The exception to this in the Eighth district, where a heavy vote is being polled in the congressional contest between C. C. Carter, democrat, and E. L. Howard, republican, to succeed John F. Rixey who died in Congress last year. Reports from various sections of the State indicate that bitter local fights are being made for the election of members of the State legislature. County officials are being chosen also.

MARTLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 5.—An unusually large vote is being polled throughout Maryland today, after one of the hottest campaigns in the State's history, which is to decide not only the governorship, but the two seats in the senate.

When the polls opened democratic leaders were betting 2 to 1 in Baltimore on the election of Crothers, their candidate for governor, notwithstanding that hundreds of democrats here are voting for Gaither (republican) because he is a city man.

The result depends largely on the vote in Baltimore, as the counties are not expected to go over 2,000 or 3,000 either way.

Chairman Vandiver, of the democratic State committee, predicted today that the democratic majority in the State would be at least 12,000.

NEW JERSEY.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 5.—The reports from Essex county at noon on the governorship ticket showed a tendency toward Katzenbach, the democratic nominee. It is generally conceded by both sides throughout the State that Essex county is the pivotal district of the election.

Throughout the Oranges, where there is a heavy commuter vote many prominent New York financial leaders are out openly hustling for the success of the democratic ticket. Nine-tenths of the commuter vote hitherto has been republican.

The effort to swing the commuter vote of the Oranges and other New Jersey suburban districts is boldly declared to be an effort to "get back" at the Roosevelt regime.

The excuse question is a live question in Newark and it is believed will again put this city in the democratic column and strongly assist in electing the democratic county assembly ticket.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 5.—At noon today in the local option election indications point to a landslide for no license down the State. Reports received are all to the effect that big majorities are being rolled up by the anti-license forces.

Wilmington district however, is expected to go "wet" by a majority ranging from 1500 to 1800 majority. The colored vote is hanging back and the liquor cash barrel is expected to be opened this afternoon.

It is reported that many warrants have been sworn out by the anti-license committee for illegal voting, but only one arrest has been made so far.

Dover, Del., Nov. 5.—Women and children are parading the streets throughout Delaware today appealing to the voters to "protect their homes and families" and churches are being kept open for the offering of prayers for the success of the anti license ticket in the election. Party lines have been forgotten.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 5.—Despite the lack of interest in the election shown during the campaign the voting began today with an unexpected display of enthusiasm. In many voting districts long lines had formed before the polls had opened. Politicians expressed doubt, however, whether this interest would be maintained during the day. Interest generally centers in the contest for sheriff of New York county where Max Bauman is a candidate of the republican-Hearst alliance against Tom Foley, Tammany nominee. Both Tammany and the republican-Hearst alliance continued to claim victory throughout the day.

Leader Murphy of Tammany put his estimates of the democratic plurality as high as 75,000.

OHIO.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—With ideal election weather and the votes dropping practically at the rate of one a minute in each of the 244 precincts in Cleveland, it is believed that nearly the entire registration of 94,000 will be registered today in the contest between Tom L. Johnson and Congressman Burton for the Cleveland mayoralty. Both sides claim success for their party but the betting sides with Johnson at 2 to 1.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Owing to apathy in the rural districts it is expected that the republican vote will show a falling off from last year, but the backers of Governor Guild look to the spirit in the democratic camp to offset any loss there.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—A large vote is being cast in Kentucky today. Kentucky is voting not only for state officials but will practically decide whether Governor Beckham is to be U. S. Senator from Kentucky, as he is his party's nominee for that place.

MOB AROUND PRISON.

Palermo, Italy, Nov. 5.—Troops surround the prison here to protect two brothers named Bellec, charged with kidnapping and brutally mistreating the two daughters of a rich Palermo family. Furious crowds tried repeatedly to take the brothers from the carabinieri who brought them to the prison Sunday night. They were beaten off, but Signor Senochi, the young woman's father, has stirred up so violent a feeling against them that a fresh attack is momentarily expected. The girls were seized on one of the principal streets of Palermo and were found bound in a house on the outskirts of the city. The Bellec brothers were caught hiding. They were thought to be members of the Mafia.

Killed by a Burglar.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—James Wilmer Alway, of Los Angeles, was slain by a burglar early today in the home of his brother, Edward Alway. Before the burglar killed his victim Alway had given him a desperate struggle. The C.ifornian had been visiting his brother.

Accused Dismissed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Accused of a daring daylight hold up within a stone's throw of Central Police station, H. W. Van Ness, 18 years old, and Wm. Monk, 19, claiming Newark, N. J., as their homes, are being held here. The boys are charged with holding up Miss Maggie Crowley yesterday afternoon in the heart of the business section and pulling a diamond ring from the woman's finger.

According to the police, Van Ness has a record for skipping with car fares after making one trip employed as conductor on a Pittsburg street car.

When the accused appeared in the Police Court today they quickly threw a different light on the affair which resulted in their discharge. According to the testimony, Miss Crowley had not been held up, as she claimed, but had given her ring to Van Ness with whom she is said to have been infatuated. The young man declared he had no intention of keeping the ring and when he told the girl he intended leaving town she pleaded with him to remain and then had him arrested to keep him. Miss Crowley admitted to the magistrate that she had not been robbed and that she gave Van Ness her ring to wear. The young men were discharged. Miss Crowley waited outside for Van Ness, but he did not speak as he passed by.

Failure of a Strike.

Coventry, England, Nov. 5.—Unionists who declared a strike against the Daimler Automobile Works to enforce a demand for lower pay have lost their fight. The Daimler works paid union wages and bonuses in addition. "This won't do," said the union officials; "the men must all be paid alike. The manufacturers stuck to their system of bonuses and the union ordered its members not to accept them. So the automobile makers opened bank accounts in the men's names and deposited the bonuses to their credit, saying they might decide to take the money some time. They did. As soon as the accounts began to pile up, about two-thirds of the unionists were tempted to their fall and began checking against them. The union officials held a meeting, expelled the offenders and declared a strike against the works. Then the men who had accepted bonuses formed a union of their own and helped their employers to fill the strikers' places. The union has finally yielded and as many of its members as can get back their old places will take them, bonuses and all.

Would-be Suicide.
